More than a decade later, this dream has become an award-winning business, with a heart for the customer. Down to Earth Garden Center is a spa for the senses, one of the most amazing garden centers in the Chippewa Valley.

The beautiful, healthy plants are a feast for the eyes. The outdoor antiques, rustic sculptures and architectural elements take you back to a simpler time. This place simply inspires creativity with natural fieldstone, waterfalls, fountains, retaining walls, mulches, pavers, ponds, lighting and more for the do-it-yourself-gardener or the backyard-hammock-dweller.

Down to Earth Garden Center melds the highest horticultural standards with landscape designers who have a passion for their work. Quality materials and advanced equipment are important, but the difference here is our people. Spring Clean-up

Spring is the perfect time of year to top-dress your mulch and clean up any debris left over from last Fall. Make sure that all of your perennials are cut back adequately and look over for any obvious disease problems. Applying a light topdressing of slow release fertilizer in the Spring is also a good idea to give your plants what they need throughout the growing season. Taking these simple steps now can save you time this Summer when you should be out enjoying your backyard!
